I cannot comprehend why the council would be advocating a distribution centre next to the already gridlocked motorway network. Not for the residents only for the businesses. I thought the councils priority was to safeguard the residents health and well-being.

I wonder when the Clean Air act gives residents a right to clean air is passed how Warrington as one of the most polluted towns in the country will achieve this, I can see the council being sued by many of the residents when they failure to deliver.

The residents south of the ship canal have never had any investment in health provision and the only recreational areas are the parks and green fields which you now want to destroy. The unemployment figure for Warrington is below the national average so why do we need to grow so rapidly.

You are not acting in any of the residents interests in Warrington, but we will all be subject to the mistakes you are making over the future of the town.
