Objection to Thelwall Heys local plan consultation

Many reasons for objection - the village

Is in a green belt area that should be preserved, this is a very quiet area that does not need disturbing and poses a number of issues including the use of Agricultural land.

In 1995 MAFF (now DEFRA) surveyed the land at Thelwall Heys and stated that 68% of it was top quality Grade 1&2 and 31% of it Grade

3a. This compares to 15% of Grades

1&2 in Cheshire and 20% across England.

In other words Thelwall Heys is top quality agricultural land which with global warming etc should be protected.

Surely you have been listening to Cop26!!!!

Greenbelt.

The whole of the Thelwall Heys site was put into Greenbelt in the early 2000s. In 2006 developers wanted to overturn this decision. WBC defended the Greenbelt at Thelwall Heys vigorously – What has changed?
