I am 75 years old and lived in Grappenhall all my life.

Successive Warrington Borough Councils, during that time, have gradually ripped the heart out of our town with ill conceived, planning and development decisions. Now they are proposing an even worse 'mortal sin'.

DESTROYING THE LUNGS OF THE TOWN

The beautiful rural landscape, and countryside, south of the ship canal, is treasured by the residents of Warrington. It has always been an accessible place, where family's can walk the country lanes and enjoy nature; visit local villages, enjoy the country air. It is a valuable, priceless leisure asset to the town. It is THE LUNGS OF THE TOWN, free to use, easily accessible and should not be destroyed.

There has already been too much house building around Parrs Wood area. Enough is enough. Don't destroy the town's lungs.
